

Hole 1 – Par 4, 411 yards

A good drive is a must with water down the right side. Second shot over water to green guarded by bunkers.

Hole 2 – Par 4, 418 yards

Requires accurate drive and then a medium iron to an undulating green, protected by bunkers.

Hole 3 – Par 3, 187 yards

A long iron will be used. Putting is at a premium when you reach the green. Par is a good score.

Hole 4 – Par 4, 420 yards

The length of this hole will test players' driving ability, as well as their long irons.

Hole 5 – Par 4, 425 yards

This uphill par 4 requires two very good shots. The green is one of the most undulating at Prestonwood.

Hole 6 – Par 4, 420 yards

Dogleg right, tough driving hole. The second shot is to the smallest green on the course and requires an accurate mid iron.

Hole 7 – Par 5, 551 yards

A three-shot par 5 for most players. Premium is on the third shot to a large green that is guarded by water on the right.

Hole 8 – Par 3, 168 yards

Signature hole - 168 yards to an island green. Good chance for a birdie or double bogey.

Hole 9 – Par 4, 387 yards

A 3 wood off the tee will leave a mid to short iron to a small green guarded by sand and water.

Hole 10 – Par 4, 428 yards

Requires an accurate drive between two bunkers, then a mid to long iron to a green guarded by three bunkers. The green has several levels and some hard to reach pin locations.

Hole 11 – Par 3, 193 yards

This well-guarded green will test the players' ability to accurately place the ball on the long narrow green. The back part of the green slopes away from the tee shot.

Hole 12 – Par 5, 571 yards

The longest hole on the course will require an accurate drive and the players' decision on whether to go for it or take the safe route. The green is well guarded by the lake on the right and three bunkers.

Hole 13 – Par 4, 434 yards

Difficult straightaway par 4. The second shot must carry a bunker guarding the front of an undulating green.

Hole 14 – Par 4, 410 yards

After a long iron or fairway wood off the tee, the approach shot to the green could yield a birdie. The green has three levels and putts from one to the other could be difficult.

Hole 15 – Par 4, 431 yards

This downhill par 4 requires two very good shots. The green is one of the most undulating at Prestonwood and is well guarded by bunkers in front.

Hole 16 – Par 4, 412 yards

After the drive, a mid iron to a steeply sloping green makes a birdie a possibility if the player hits the proper level of the green.

Hole 17 – Par 5, 503 yards

Hole favors the long hitters on this reachable par 5. Second shot must carry a creek to a green protected by large bunkers.

Hole 18 – Par 4, 417 yards

After the drive avoids five fairway bunkers, the approach to the green with a mid to short iron must avoid three greenside bunkers. This green will challenge the player to hit the right area or face a tricky putt.
